

Construction Superintendent Certification Program

Overview

NCCER's Construction Superintendent Certification Program is designed to help existing and future superintendents understand how to master the challenges they face in the field while also helping them excel in both business and people management. This online, turnkey solution can shorten the learning curve and help individuals grow into highly effective superintendents more quickly.

The program addresses three key organizational objectives: construction business acumen, people management and profit maximization.

Program benefits include:

- ✓ Flexible online training that can be fully self-paced or set up as a facilitator model - virtually or in person
- ✓ Practical, real-world lessons taught by some of the nation's most seasoned construction superintendents and executives
- ✓ A rigorous assessment that enables companies to evaluate the knowledge of existing superintendents
- ✓ Ability to incorporate company-specific training and information into the program or integrate courses into a company's existing program

Program Components

- Sixteen online courses, plus an introduction course to set learners up for success.
- Learn and Engage lessons provide instruction using text, audio, scenarios and videos that provide practical and actionable lessons on key topics.
- Check Your Understanding questions after each lesson in a course to help the individual measure their learning progress.
- Continue Learning content that provides practical forms, checklists, guidelines, expert videos and links to recommended reading to help expand the learning experience.
- Apply and Reflect activities for participants to apply their learning.
- Review and Practice questions at the end of each course to ensure comprehension of the materials and practice for taking the end-of-program assessment.
- Rigorous assessment to measure comprehension and skills attainment. (Can be purchased separately to measure and remediate individuals OR for an experienced Superintendent to attain the certification.)
- Optional Facilitator's Guide to assist in setting up and delivering the program as a cohort, it also includes best practices.
